

Third Annual Talent Show

On July 22, 2008 GROWS held its third annual talent show at the Outta the Way Café in Derwood, Maryland. The event was attended by 60 GROWS members and friends who turned out to enjoy six fabulous acts. Mary Sweeny of Shady Grove Adventist Nursing & Rehabilitation/Kingshire Manor Assisted living not only coordinated the event but performed in it as well! Her band, Costal People performed several numbers from their varied repertoire.

Helen Abrahams kindly acted as the mistress of ceremonies and had the pleasure of introducing past performer Gary Halper who entertained the crowd with acoustic songs. Gary was followed by Steve Hage of Strategies for Independent Living and his band. Steve played several tunes that the crowd was quite familiar with. It was great fun to sing along. Ed Ehernberg surprised and wowed the crowd with his beautiful selections of show tunes. Ed represents Your Financial Assistant. David Harry from Transport U sang several songs delighting the crowd with his natural stage presence. Songstress Kristina treated the crowd to several selections from popular Broadway Musicals. Her cheering section could be heard in Rockville!

Outta the Way Café donated 10% of all proceeds to GROWS. A big thank you to all who joined in the fun.
