Make your next move with ease.

Do you know the most common Tax, Financial & Legal concerns when selling the family home?

We all know there can sometimes be complexities related to the transfer of property. More times than not families try to solve these problems during a crisis, but creating a contingency plan in advance is a far better way of dealing with potential pitfalls.

You may be asking...

What legal documents are needed when selling my home?

What are the tax implications of owning, selling, or transferring property?

How should a property be deeded to avoid potential future challenges?

Please join us for a panel discussion with local tax, financial and legal experts about how to avoid common challenges faced by families just like yours.
